Dear Mr. Powell:

Thank you for your letter of January 23, 1979 concerning your manuscript, COMPARATIVE AESTHETICS: A WORKBOOK. Every university press is limited in the number of books they can publish by their economic resources. Our resources allow us the number of proposals we receive. I regret to inform you that our present commitments are already stretching our resources and that we shall be unable to pursue the publication of your manuscript.

Please accept our thanks for your consideration of SUNY Press and our best wishes in your publishing venture.

Sincerely yours,

William Eastman
